Committee Tells Plan
Commission To Obey
Statute As WrittenSays Can't Ask Set-Backs
Over 25 Feet Under Law

Whenever the Planning Commission has told builders of houses in Sierra Madre how far to set back from the street it has acted without authority and in violation of the law.

This is the conclusion that has been reached by a joint committee set up by the Planning Commission itself and headed by Bayard Bigelow, one of its members. When it meets tonight at the City Hall, the Commission will be asked to consider a committee resolution urging "verbatim" adherence to Ordinance 394. This ordinance, establishing 25 feet as the maximum set-back that may be required in any zone, was adopted in May, 1939.

POLICY BRANDED

In recent cases, notably one in which Nathaniel Van De Verg was forced to put his East Mira Monte Avenue house 35 feet back from the street, the Commission's policy has been to require new houses to be set back in conformity with houses adjoining.

The joint committee branded this policy as absolutely without legal foundation.

Mr. Bigelow and Mrs. Robert Wright, two of the three Commission members who were present at the committee meeting last Wednesday night, admitted ruefully that only within the past few days had they known of the existence of Ordinance 394. Commission Secretary Webster Vannier, also a member of the committee, said he had known of the ordinance right along and implied that City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds had also known of it but had not interpreted it as the committee did.

MRS. WRIGHT WRATHFUL

Mrs. Wright inquired wrathfully why the knowledge had not been shared with the other Commission members? Vannier said it hadn't occurred to him they didn't know about it.

Other joint committee members were Mayor Milton Steinberger; realtors John Loomis and John Osgood; banker A. E. Morgan; Chamber of Commerce President Noren Eaton, who spoke sometimes for the Chamber and more often for himself as a lawyer; and A. H. Werthebe, also a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The curtly-worded resolution, adopted without dissenting vote, was as follows:

WHEREAS it is the consensus of those of us attending this meeting that under a proper legal interpretation of Ordinance No. 394 of the City of Sierra Madre, a set-back of not to exceed 25 feet is required,

NOW THEREFORE be it resolved that this committee recommend to the Planning Commission that said Ordinance continue in effect as written and that the same be strictly interpreted according to its terms as hereinbefore stated.

The section of Ordinance No. 394 to which the committee particularly referred reads in part as follows:

"... there shall be in front of every building hereinafter erected on any property classified in Land Use District R-1, R-2, or R-3 ... a front yard having a minimum depth of 25 feet, provided that no front yard need be deeper than the average of the depths of the front yards on the lots thereto adjoining, (any other side or vacant lot or lot occupied by a building with a front yard more than 25 feet deep being considered as having a front yard of 25 feet deep (sic); provided further that where undue hardship would result from the strict enforcement of this Ordinance, the City Council may,

Hy Yodow
New Legion
Commander

The Sierra Madre American Legion Post No. 297 held its annual election of officers recently and named Hyman Yodow of 338 East Grandview, commander; Walter L. The board of directors voted in were Dale Stevens, George R. Tolle, Royal MacNair, Roy Pickett, Henry Nord and C. J. Chunn.

A joint installation of post and auxiliary officers has been set for August 26th, 7:30, at the Womans Clubhouse.

Commander Yodow has plans for a Veteran Organization Day September 18th. The program is being built around a patriotism theme with a parade followed by auction sale, hayride and barn dance.

Many New Phones
In City

F. H. MacGougau, manager of the telephone division of California Water and Telephone, stated recently in an interview with the Sierra Madre NEWS that 200 new lines have recently been installed in the Sierra Madre exchange.

This installation is part of a pre-war expansion plan which was interrupted by the lack of material when the war came on. Mr. MacGougau says that an order has been given for 200 more local lines that will probably be installed during the next six months. Two hundred lines mean at least 200 new phones in the city, and if they are party lines the number might be multiplied by two, three or four times. Many of the phones handle the demand for extended service in the area.

When asked how Sierra Madres adjusted themselves to the new system of dialing Cu-5, Mr. MacGougau said the public fell in line very quickly, that it took about two weeks for people to remember the prefix dialing, that two extra operators had to be added to the staff during that time.

The prefix dialing is a lead-up to dialing any number in the Metropolitan area, i.e., Long Beach, San Fernando, Los Angeles, etc. In fact, a plan is being worked out so that a dial connection over the United States will eventually be possible.

MT. WILSON

Tuesday, July 20, the Mt. Wilson exchange was cut into the metropolitan system. Many new residents have created the need for an exchange. Mt. Wilson heretofore has been through the Sierra Madre office.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Heasley, 30 Victoria Lane, received word last week from their son, Pfc. Russell Heasley, stationed at Johnston Island in the South Pacific with the U. S. Army Air Force.

He reports that the island, a habitat of the famous "Gooney" bird, is only 900 by 1300 feet with not one tree—just rock and sand. The island is used primarily as a landing strip and refueling center.

St. Rita's

The body of Pfc. Martin Velasquez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Velasquez, 199 North Grove, arrives at Grant Chapel today from Oakland, Calif. Pfc. Velasquez was killed February 22, 1945, at Manila, while with the Army Company K, 145th Infantry, 37th Division.

Rosary will be said at Grant Chapel at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Mass will be at St. Rita Catholic Church, 9 a.m., Saturday, with a military ritual following at Sierra Madre Cemetery.

Besides his parents, Pfc. Velasquez is survived by a brother, Ted Velasquez, and two sisters, Sophia and Eloisa Velasquez of this city.

The Sierra Madre News has received so many responses from the invitation to the public to write views on the "Horse-and-Buggy" town or a live, up-to-date city, that we have been unable to publish all of them.

We appreciate the response and feel that the recent problems arising have done much to arouse citizenry to the responsibility of attending Council, Planning Commission and other civic organization meetings.

POLIO SITUATION IN AREA VERY GOOD

There have been no cases of Polio myelitis to date, in Sierra Madre, Monrovia or Arcadia, according to Dr. Bert G. Gribble, head of the Monrovia Health Department, who said, "The situation here is good and we hope it will continue."

Dr. Gribble felt no immediate cause for alarm.

Of Pasadena, Charles Arthur, chief health officer, reports that to date, since January 1, there have been five cases of Polio.

This is identical to figures reported at this same time for the past three years.

Hartman Put
On School
Board

Rudolph Hartman was sworn in at the special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Sierra Madre School District Monday evening. Mr. Hartman will act as temporary member in the capacity of clerk. The arrangement was necessitated by the absence of two board members who are in the East, Mrs. Francis Dane, who is in Maine for the summer, and Howell White, called East by the death of his father.

A preliminary budget quota for the year was adopted Monday night which will be sent to the county office for approval. A public budget hearing will be held August 3rd in the Grammar school.

The teachers salary increase was accepted, which was an average increase per teacher of a little over $300 for the year.

The bids were opened for the gas ranges and sewing machines formerly used in the home economics department and part were sold. The remainder will be sold at private sale.

Capt. Baker
Kiwanis Club
Speaker

Capt. Cecil Baker, U. S. retired Navy man, was guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday. Capt. Baker's ideas for a solution to the Russian situation were titled "American Recipes for Kremlin Stomachs."

They included removing Russia from the United Nations, excluding them from all conferences and showing them that America is prepared to enforce laws.

His recipes were preceded by a history of Russian rulers from the days of early conquerors and their rise to power. Capt. Baker was educated in France, Switzerland and at Princeton and has served over 40 years in the U. S. Navy.

Dr. Thomas Wynne was inducted into the club by Rudolph Hartman. Lloyd Howard was program chairman.

Overflow Hearing Crowd
Fails to Support Vane

The new schedule of water rates will pass the City Council just as originally proposed by Council Water Committee Chairman Herman Barter. There will be no amendment of the proposed ordinance to change the Water Department's accounting methods.

These facts became self-evident after Tuesday night's public hearing before a special citizens' committee adjourned without any serious opposition to the ordinance being voiced. In fact, C. A. Vane, whose mimeographed blast at the last Council meeting brought about creation of the arbitration committee, stood practically alone as he reiterated his charge that any increased water revenues would be "siphoned off for the support of non-essential activities of the Sierra Madre City Hall."

The committee did not, as had been anticipated, make any recommendation to the City Council nor did it make any expression whatever of its collective opinion. Each member, however, stated his position and all except Vane endorsed the ordinance as now written.

OVERFLOW CROWD

Mayor Steinberger presided. Besides Vane and Barter, the committee included John Osgood, Councilman Henry Korsemeier, A. E. Morgan, and former City Manager Al S. Myers. Osgood's endorsement was qualified. He described as "discriminatory" the requirement for separate service charge for each unit of a multiple dwelling, regardless of the number of meters, but said he had been assured the Council would consider his plea at a later date.

The City Hall Council chamber was jammed with assorted citizens. All standing room was occupied and the crowd spilled out into the hall. This writer had the feeling that a good many of these people came in a skeptical frame of mind. As Mr. Vane began his offensive, he seemed to be getting a rather definite response. NO SUPPORT FOR VANE

In the end, however, he failed to corral whatever potential

The principal rate changes as provided in the new ordinance are:

Min. rate (First 500 cu. ft.) $1.25, as at present, but no discount for early payment.

Second 500 cubic feet, 12c per 100 cubic feet. Present rate, 10c.

Next 1,500 cubic feet, 10c per 100, against the present 7c.

Over 2,500 cubic feet, 9c per 100, present rate, 5c.

allies there were. Perhaps this was because he based his case mostly on the virtues of an entire separation of Water Department funds from tax funds.

COUNCILMAN BARTER
Water LeaderWelch Home
And Garden
Supply Sold

An important business change has been made in our business district this week with the announcement by Lloyd Welch that he has sold "Welch's Home and Garden Supply" to O. P. Arnold, an experienced hardware and garden supply business man, until recently owner of the Redondo Beach Hardware Co.

Mr. Welch has been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past 17 years, coming to California from Wisconsin in 1920 and to Sierra Madre in 1931 from Alhambra. Fourteen years ago he started up in business here in a small way and has developed the same into an important asset to the city.

In 1941 Mr. Welch erected the building at 51 North Baldwin which has housed the Welch Home and Garden Supply, The Wistaria Beauty Shop, the offices of Dr. Herbert and the living quarters of Mr. Welch and his family on the second floor.

Mr. Welch says he is now going to devote his time to catching up with his fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, coming to California from Tennessee in 1909, have two children, a daughter entering the University of Arizona this year, and a son in the Marines who plans to enter the University of Virginia this fall.

They plan to make Sierra Madre their home as soon as they find a suitable residence.

New Quota of Books At City Library

Mrs. Irving Berlin (Ellin) whose Irish immigrant grandfather made his pile in the Comstock Lode, and whose father was Postal Telegraph tycoon, Clarence Mackay, has written another delightful book, LACE CURTAIN. Many readers will remember her LAND I HAVE CHOSEN of a few years ago.

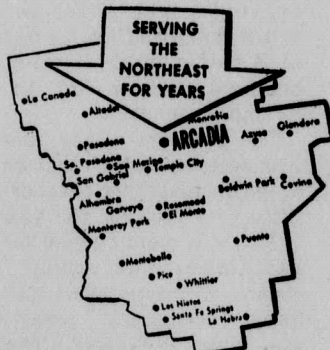

LACE CURTAIN is a lively chronicle of a warm-hearted, exciting "lace-curtain" family. It is filled with drama, and characters of wide and vivid human appeal. This is a story of plush and prejudice which paints the New York and Long Island life of a generation ago.

Another book, and quite a different one is THE STUBBORN WOOD, by Emily Harvin. This is an emotionally powerful indictment of the private insane asylum as demonstrated in the story of a California mother held without legal commitment for the convenience of her philandering husband. The book, although written as a novel, is documented with many proofs, according to the foreword. It is beautifully, even brilliantly written, profoundly moving, and for stark realism it has no equal among books on this theme. The author has made the incredible seem credible to the reader, the impossible seem not only possible, but likely. Both of these books are in demand at the library.

Other books received at the library are: Fiction: Parris Mitchell of King's Row; Cry, the beloved country Paton; The conspirator, Slater; Tryst, Thane; How lost was my week end, Dodge; Reluctant rebel, Van de Water; Foolish gentlewoman, Sharp; Westward the dream, Marion; I thee wed, Gabriel; I never saw an Arab like him, Maxwell; Treasury of science fiction, Conklin. For the mystery fans there are nine new who-done-its and six new

SIERRA MADRE WILLIMOTTS ENJOY TRIP NORTH; SNOW DRIFTS PART OF THRILLS

W. P. Willimott of Sierra Madre threads way through 30 ft. of snow drift last week at Mt. Lassen, California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Willimott, of 10 East Mira Monte, returned recently from a northern business trip and vacation. Mr. Willimott, executive secretary of the California Chiropractic Association, with headquarters in Los Angeles, represented the state at the national Convention held at Portland, June 28 to July 3.

The Willimotts, in a brand new Oldsmobile made the trip a vacation adventure, going up the Redwood Highway and after the convention visited Victoria and Vancouver. They were delighted with the beauty and quaintness of Victoria in British Columbia. All street lighting posts supported two large containers of geraniums and vines. It was a festive and gala atmosphere.

The Willimotts said the highlight of their trip was Crater Lake where the blue of the water reflecting the snow-capped peaks was beyond description. But the most unique experience was at Mt. Lassen, California, where they drove through 30 ft. snow drifts. It was a one traffic cut which had been made for the road leading to Lassen Volcanic National Park. They drove six miles through the drift, with the car windows open, able to touch the snow on either side and it was warm enough that no wraps were needed.

Washington D. C. Guests Entertained On Churchill Road

L. A. Forces Prepare For Polio Crisis

To meet the problem of increased cases of poliomyelitis which has produced an emergency situation at the Los Angeles County General Hospital, the Poliomyelitis Coordinating Council, which has been organized for the past two years, has been reactivated with representation from the State Department of Public Health, Los Angeles City Health Department, Los Angeles County Health Department, Long Beach City Health Department, Pasadena City Health Department, Los Angeles County Hospital, Los Angeles private hospitals, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, American Red Cross, and the Los Angeles County Medical Society. The purpose of the council is to coordinate the efforts of the various agencies and to keep the public properly informed.

Additional bed space has been made available by readjustment of the patient load in the County Hospital and several private hospitals, although more personnel and bed space are still being sought. The Los Angeles Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is contributing financial support for hospital care, nurses and equipment, and is recruiting physical therapists. The American Red Cross is recruiting nurses and preparing Kenney packs used in treatment.

The following statement concerning poliomyelitis has been approved by the health and medical authorities of the group:

"The cause of poliomyelitis is a virus, a form of germ too small to be seen under the microscope. It may be found in the nose and throat secretions and in bowel discharges of persons with the disease and of apparently healthy carriers. Exactly how the virus travels from one person to another is not known. It may be through the air, through contamination of food or drink, by way of insects or by some combinations of these routes. Many individuals acquire the virus with only slight signs of illness or none at all. Such apparently healthy persons may spread the virus, but there is no practical way to detect these carriers."

According to an editorial in the American Journal of Public Health, "During an epidemic, advantage may possibly accrue from reducing the total number of daily contacts between individuals, but this should be regulated on a voluntary basis rather than by legal compulsions which disrupt community life."

On the basis of the above facts, the following simple rules are recommended:

- (1) Avoid overtiring and extreme exercise.
- (2) Avoid crowds but do not take children out of school. There is more likelihood of exposure to new carriers when children are taken out of school.
- (3) Do not swim in contaminated water. Swimming pools are not closed, but contacts to new people who may be carriers of poliomyelitis may be made at swimming pools, as at other places where people assemble.
- (4) Avoid sudden chilling such as plunging into cold water on a hot day. Do not remain long in cold water.
- (5) Wash hands thoroughly before eating and always after using the toilet. Wash your hands after having been in any public place.
- (6) Keep flies away from food. Screen windows and doors against flies. Keep garbage cans closed tightly. Have garbage picked up before maggots appear.
- (7) Sleep well—eat well. Be sure to get plenty of sleep. Poliomyelitis hits the tired person. Do not overexpose

New Rice and Olive Recipes Add Variety To Summer Dinners

A new kind of rice and chopped olives have been combined in a dish developed recently. The rice is a quick-cooking, high-vitamin product called pearl rice.

In one of the recipes used, two ounces of dry rice were added to an eight-ounce can of chopped olives. Then sliced garlic, onions, chopped green pepper, salt, tomato sauce, and water were added and the mixture was cooked for 20 minutes in a pressure cooker. It was found advisable to shake the cooker frequently to keep the ingredients well mixed during the swelling of the rice.

Another rice-olive dish which was made contained golden pearl rice, precooked until plump. This rice was drained and stewed lamb was added in small pieces. Also added were curry, sliced olives, and a small amount of broken hot chili peppers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

The T. R. Stetsons Live in Sierra Madre As "An Investment for Ourselves and Family"

639 Woodland Drive
Sierra Madre, California
July 13, 1948

Mr. Clifford C. Ward, Editor
Sierra Madre News
Sierra Madre, California
Dear Sir:

Maybe Sierra Madre is a horse-and-buggy town — and maybe it isn't. Regardless of what one chooses to call it, we like it. We like the town, the climate, and the people. We like the quiet surroundings.

Why else would one buy a home out here on the edge of the hills and bring his family to this town, than to enjoy this peace-fulness and neighborliness. If such characteristics make a horse-and-buggy town then it is a pity we don't have more of them.

The Valley has its bigger cities and its fog and smog and gasoline fumes and heavy traffic and continual nerve-racking noise. We don't like those conditions. That's why we're in Sierra Madre. I travel eighteen miles morning and evening, to and from work, for the privilege of living peacefully here and away from the City furor. It's well worth the price.

Let's not get any delusions of grandeur about building a metropolis here on the edge of the foothills and ruining the beautiful surroundings with which nature has blessed us. Sierra Madre is not geographically situated to be an industrial center nor do we have space for industrial development within the City boundaries. It is a residential community and such it should be kept. If it costs us a little more in taxes to operate a City of homes than we would have to pay on our homes if we also had industries to tax, let's pay it and gladly. We consider it a splendid investment for ourselves and our children.

Undoubtedly some parts of the town could stand a little better landscaping and better care of trees and shrubbery, etc. Let's bend our efforts in that direction.

As to residential zoning, established residences should be protected, but builders of new homes should also be given consideration. We agree wholeheartedly with the author of the letter who last week said, "Let's have less front yard to mow and more back yard to enjoy." New houses coming into a block already partly built up should observe the established set-back line; but as new areas are opened up it is ridiculous to push the houses clear to the back of the lot. In a community which has grown up as ours it is an impossibility for the Planning Commission to establish any hard and fast rules along these lines and the prevailing spirit of friendliness and neighborliness, which in Sierra Madre exceeds anything we have seen anywhere else, will have to be the deciding factor.

If all of this makes us a horse-and-buggy town, then a horse-and-buggy town we are — and we're proud of it.

Yours very truly,
MR. & MRS. T. R. STETSON

POLICE BLOTTER

Boys in the mountains, who tho't that they might as well take stuff from a cabin before someone else did, found themselves in the arms of the law. Removing property from a cabin is serious. The owner might want to use it sometime. Besides, that would make some folks awful angry. . . . "Child ran into a parked auto." . . . Illegal dumping. . . . Barking dogs. . . . Fire call. . . . Banging and hammering. . . . A three-cornered key case lost. . . . Boys shooting guns are declared innocent by the parents who were with them. . . . Auto accident. . . . Loose horse. (Maybe we will remain in the "horse and buggy" category.) . . . Pound dog. Chicken odor. (When the wind is in the right direction, it's not too sweet.) . . . Landlady and tenant become entangled. Cops called when someone tries to remove a door. (Tenant would get cold these chilly nights, if there was not a door. (It could be a jar.) . . . An Arcadia man was accused of beating his wife. The Sierra Madre cops were called as well as the Arcadia peelers. Arcadia was able to handle the situation. Our huskies went on their way. . . . "FIRE!" . . . Runaway youth is a repeater. . . . "Fire business." . . . When the folks go away and leave them in the house, the lonely dogs bark. This is strenuous music to the nearest neighbors. . . . Suspicious car. . . . Lost bracelet. . . . Taking possession of a man's private property at night when he was away, finally got beyond bearing. He doesn't want it taken over any more. . . . Boys and girls in the Canyon swimming pool. Probably enjoying a swim. What do you think? . . . A "T.C." . . . A car without a working brake is dangerous, you bet. When Mort Nemerson found on application that he was brakeless, he turned into the nearest vacant lot and had it not been for a small building that stopped him. — he might have been somewhere along the Santa Anita channel, for which he was headed. . . . Music and laughter from across the street was too much for those trying to sleep on the other side. However, there isn't a great deal to be done about it. Music is music, be it ever so horrible, at times. . . . BARKING DOGS! (Music) . . . Run-aways. A boy and girl. . . . Water escaping from a "Hump" in the street. The question is "did the water make the hump, or did the lump cause the water?" . . . "SHOOTING" . . . Cement mixer without a lantern. (Wonder who could have done that? Be careful boys.) . . . Carmen and Paula Lopez, ages seven and two, strolled away from the shelter of home one morning this week. Mamma Lopez was very much perturbed and well she should have been. Neither of these young ladies are old enough to fight off the wolves. Dressed in their little green sunsuits and red shoes, they were soon back home. . . . There was quite a flurry when a call came from Arcadia telling the cops that a woman on Suffolk Avenue, here, was overcome with gas. Redlights burning, siren sounding and much speed got Heasley there in short order, only to find that the woman had walked to the police station to report that her refrigerator had sprung a leak and she was unable to stay in her house. After snagging Officer Mackie (who was enjoying "off duty") Heasley and Mackie picked up the box bodily (between breaths) and dumped it into the back yard.

Ralph Welch District Chairman

Ralph ("Pappy") Welch has been appointed zone chairman of the Lions International for the Foothill region by Ray

RALPH WELCH

Cristler of Los Angeles, newly-elected Governor of District 4, comprising Nevada and Southern California.

Mr. Welch will attend the first cabinet meeting at the Biltmore Hotel August 20.

By MAXINE BALLING

TRICKERY has been used for years by mothers in an effort to get their babies to EAT THEIR FOOD. Now we have a gimmick at the Balling Baby Shop which is the ultimate in deception. But you have to work it just right. It's a musical dish, see. You give baby some baby talk such as "Now you eat all your oatmeal, aaaaall UP, and the magic dish will make music for you. See? Wheee!" And when he has licked the platter clean, you sneakily flip a little lever under the edge of the dish and it begins to play a tinkly tune, of which we have several. He'll catch on, we hope, and eat so much oatmeal that he'll be six foot-six inches tall and make quarterback at UCLA. The musical dish is $6.50 . . . but five seconds when I'd give more than that to get my kids to EAT THE REST OF THAT FOOD.

SANETTE KIDDIE-KAN is a handy thing to have around when you have a small baby. It's a 15-inch step-on can, with a seamless white porcelain enameled inner pail. Baby things can be dropped into it as you raise the lid with your toe on the pedal, leaving your hands free to handle the baby. The soiled things can be boiled right in the inner pail. The outer cans come in white, yellow, blue or pink with an attractive picture on the side. $8.95

JUST RECEIVED some washable leather shoes for babies, size 0, 1 and 2. They're pink, blue or white.

AND WE RECEIVED some nice handkerchiefs . . . patterns for both boys and girls. 25c.

AND WE RECEIVED some beautiful terry knit cardigan sweaters for girls, in sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16. Yellow, white, blue and red. And only 1.95. These will be nice for school.

GOING ON A TRIP? If you're going to take a baby on a vacation trip, here are some suggestions that you may find helpful. A car seat can save a lot of wear and tear on all the adults in the car. 3.95. A car bed can be used both in the car and indoors, when you stop overnight at the motel, and when you reach your destination. 8.50. "Bot-o-Hot" plugs into the cigar lighter on the car, and heats baby's bottle in 8 minutes. 2.95. Earcraft bottle sterilizer is a compact aluminum rack which holds six bottles upside down in a boiling pan, then holds them upright for filling and compact storing in the refrigerator. 2.95.

HAVE A NICE VACATION . . . and when you return, don't forget to stop in at the BALLING BABY SHOP, 401½ South Myrtle Ave., Monrovia.

What Type of Person is Susceptible to TB?

What types of people are most susceptible to tuberculosis? No one can be certain that he will never get tuberculosis. The disease attacks people in all walks of life, in any age group, the stout or slim, tall or short, rich or poor.

Those who neglect their health and allow their resistance to become weakened are inviting trouble. The person who has sound health and tries to keep it sound has a better chance of warding off tuberculosis or recovering from the disease if it does develop than the person who consistently neglects his health.

COMMITTEE TELLS

Ordinance 394 was passed as an emergency measure to block the building plans of "certain persons" and, according to Section 5, was "urgently required for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety." That it was considered a temporary measure is suggested by the statement in the same section that the front yard requirements laid down should be maintained "until such time as official front yard requirements can be established by said City Council as part of the 'Official Land Use Plan of the City of Sierra Madre' . . ."

Such incorporation in the Land Use plan would, it is understood, involve individual zoning of lots. No such zoning has ever been done and the emergency ordinance is still the law and must, in the opinion of the joint committee, be obeyed.

EXPECTED HOT MEETING

If the joint committee session was any indication, tonight's public meeting (8 p.m., City Hall) should be a wowser, if only because it will offer a return bout between Eaton and Vannier. Eaton, asked if he would attend, said: "I don't think you'll be able to keep me away."

Eaton began by accusing Vannier of talking privately with Van De Verg and telling him where to put his house without consulting the rest of the Commission. He then asked him if he was guilty as charged?

Vannier's answer was a thump on the table and a threat to walk out of the meeting. Said he: "I came here to find out what you want us (the Commission) to do, not to get bawled out."

BIGELOW MAKES PEACE

Chairman Bigelow, who throughout the evening found himself in somewhat the position of a U. N. mediator in Palestine, stubbornly refused to take his colleagues' outbursts of temper seriously. Having himself proposed the joint committee to break the impasse in which the Planning Commission found itself, he seemed determined to get results.

Mr. Vannier stayed, but remained rather aloof from the proceedings except on the frequent occasions when he was stung by some challenging remark hurled directly at him by Mr. Eaton or Mrs. Wright. Although he left no doubt that he disagreed with the sentiment of the resolution, which in effect constituted a censure of his own actions, he did not oppose its passage or cast a vote against it. He gave the impression that he felt the proper place for him to state his side of the issue was before the full membership of the Planning Commission. He did warn the committee, however, that it was ignoring "practical political problems" and "stirring up a hornet's nest." "You will have some fights on your hands," he predicted. He did not elaborate on this prophecy but from earlier remarks one would assume he was thinking of the many indignant neighbors who have come before the Planning Commission demanding setbacks in excess of the ordinance-stipulated 25 feet.

DEFEND PROPERTY RIGHTS

It was noteworthy that Vannier and Eaton were most at logger-heads when both were championing their particular versions of individual property rights. Vannier defended the right of those already living in a neighborhood to protect it from building that might change its character and depreciate their properties.

Eaton, on the other hand, denied that the neighbors had anything to say in the matter. He declared that if he had a single foot of land he should be allowed "to do with it as I please, unless there is some law that says I shouldn't." He said he wanted to "publicly state" that he stood ready to come to the defense of anyone "whose rights are violated by the Commission."

GILBERT CASE NOT EFFECTED

It should be pointed out that the committee's action does not effect some of the most controversial cases that have recently come before the Commission. For instance R. C. Gilbert, whose appeal to the City Council from a Commission decision will be heard next week, was rejected under the terms of the Subdivision Ordinance. Eaton told the committee there is "serious doubt" as to the legality of this ordinance, which is less than a year old, but the committee felt the question was not within its scope.

From page one anything had been overlooked. Reynolds didn't think it would do any good. "I think my judgment in this case is good," said he.

BATTLE OF STATISTICS

The question of whether the Water Department operates at a profit, as Vane contends, or at a loss, as Barter maintains, boiled down to a battle of statistics. Vane's set of figures, based on the City Clerk's report to the State Comptroller General, shows a profit of $33,524 for 1936-1947. Korsemeier, working with the auditor's report for the same period, slashed this figure clear down to $987.27. Myers, also using the auditor's figures, pointed out other costs he said were properly chargeable to the Water Department and insisted that instead of profit, large or small, there was an actual loss of several thousand dollars.

A good deal of the argument was over this writer's head, but it was obviously the consensus of the committee that at best the Water Department has not been getting rich and that it must take in more money to take care of what everybody agrees are urgent needs for replacement of present worn-out facilities and for expansion of facilities to match the growth of the city. Mr. Barter has estimated at least $120,000 will be needed in the next four or five years just to keep up with the present demand.

FEAR WATER FAMINE

The audience showed much more concern over water supply than it did over water expense. Behind all the discussion lurked the spectre of water famine in Sierra Madre. Mr. Barter stressed the urgency of the problem but advised that

Thumbsucking Study Completed at U. C.

Thumbsucking seems to be more prevalent in children who come from happy homes and in the more feminine girls. These are the findings of Dr. Marjorie P. Honzik, research associate at the University of California. Dr. Honzik has recently completed a study of thumbsucking in a group of 200 normal children.

Dr. Honzik found that about one third of the group were sucking their thumbs at the end of their second year, with evidence that the habit begins after the baby is frustrated in his need for either sucking, food, or for comfort during illness.

"There is some evidence in the study that the relationships within the home of the thumb-suckers are unusually happy ones," Dr. Honzik said. "There tends to be a harmonious relationship between the parents and an unusually friendly attitude of the mother toward the thumbsucking child."

Dr. Honzik also said that probably the greater prevalence of thumbsucking in girls than boys may be attributed to a more lenient attitude toward the girls with regard to the habit and to greater activity by boys.
